

Planning for History Senior Thesis Research at a European Archive?

Librarians can help you:

- Identify archival collections relevant to your research
- Access primary and secondary source materials related to those collections
- Conduct a review of the secondary literature on your research topic

All of these activities, in turn, can help you to strengthen and refine your proposal for Global Innovation funding.

Make an Appointment

Set up a consultation with a librarian. Use the “Make an Appointment” link on our Ask a Librarian page, <http://library.columbia.edu/research/askalibrarian.html>

History Librarians

Below is a list of librarians with their specific area of responsibility, although we are all available to address questions regardless of subject. You may contact anyone below directly to ask for advice or request an appointment:

African Studies (North of Sahara)	Peter Magierski	pm2650@columbia.edu
African Studies (South of Sahara)	Yuusuf S. Caruso	jc93@columbia.edu
Ancient & Medieval History	Karen Green	klg19@columbia.edu
British History	John Tofanelli	jt628@columbia.edu
German History	Ian Beilin	igb4@columbia.edu
Iberian Studies	Socrates Silva	ss5000@columbia.edu
Jewish & Israeli Studies	Michelle Chesner	mc3395@columbia.edu
Russian & Eurasian Studies	Robert Davis	rhd2106@columbia.edu
South Asian Studies	Gary Hausman	gjh2119@columbia.edu
Western European Studies	Meredith Levin	mjl2209@columbia.edu

For a full list of subject specialist librarians see, bit.ly/1b9Hkm3